Information

The Senator RH690 turns the dial up on presence, cockpit space and blue-water confidence. It's the hardtop for crews who want to cover ground quickly and comfortably, then settle into a rock-solid platform at rest thanks to Senator's welded pontoon buoyancy.

The refined deep-vee hull maintains a dry, composed ride in the messy stuff, while high sides and generous freeboard add reassurance when you're working lures, setting livebaits or gearing up to dive. Inside the cockpit there's genuine room for bins, tackle and mates without tripping over each other, and the layout supports long sessions on the drift or at anchor. Built in marine-grade aluminium, the Senator RH690 is tough, practical and easy to rinse down after big days.

Choose Yamaha or Mercury power to match your range and load, then tailor electronics, seating and storage to your style. If your calendar includes game season, extended coastal runs and larger crews, The Senator RH690 is a natural step into serious NZ boating.
